FAVORITES HAVE WINNING DAY

Fine sport was enjoyed by a banner crowd that turned out yesterday at the Fair Grounds to watch the races, and with a continuance of the grand weather that has prevailed all through the meeting, combined with spirited contests in all of the events, there was nothing lacking to make the afternoon a memorable one.

Metropolitan Proves Feature.
The feature of the afternoon's sport was the remarkably fast time made in the different events, which goes to prove that the Fair Grounds track is one of the fastest in the west. Not only fast time was made in the third race, when Metropolitan stepped the five furlongs in 1:02 3/5, which comes pretty close to the record for a half-mile track.

In the fourth race No Quarter reeled off the seven furlongs in 1:29, which is by far the best time for the distance ever made hereabouts.

The track record for a mile and a sixteenth almost glimmering when Treasure Seeker hung up the fast time of 1:49 4/5, which time will not be duplicated for some time, it is safe to say.

Favorites Run to Form.
The public choices fared fairly well, as all of them with one solitary exception either finished first or second. The only favorite to finish outside the money was Zick Abrams in the third race, and his poor race is unexplainable unless it be that he has been raced too much and has stalled off.

No Quarter topped the feature race, which was a seven furlong journey, and fourth on the card. The winner had to do some pretty tall hustling to get to the judges first, however, for he had pressed all the way, and at the end was only a nose in front of Chief Desmond, equal choice with the winner. Special Delivery got the show money, while Biskra, the only other starter, was never in the hunt and was beaten off all the way. The latter ran into the outside fence right after the start and thereafter was never a factor in the race.

Both Special Delivery and Biskra attracted considerable play, and while the horses were on their way to the post Cavanaugh on Special Delivery was called to one side by Judge Skinner and cautioned not to put a listless ride on the horse. The boy gave heed to the warning, for he rode the horse as though his life depended upon it, and it must be said he got every ounce of speed out of the horse.

First Race Was Close.
The opening race furnished a very close and exciting finish, when Aquiline, coming like a flash on the rail, just managed to snatch the purse from Sainest, the favorite, by a short neck. The Cain mare lost the race simply because she indulged in her propensity for running out at the turns, and it was impossible for the boy to hold her in.

Salomy Jane, running for the first time at the meeting, ran a creditable race.

Nebraska Lass Wins.
Nebraska Lass proved to be pounds the best in the second event, for she smothered her field after half the journey had been traversed, and won in a big gallop with four lengths to spare.

Gelco, the favorite, managed to get the place after the toughest kind of racing luck. Callahan unavoidably got him in a series of pockets, and when he finally got into clear sailing it was too late and the chances of catching the flying leader were nil. The consistent Runsum stuck it out gamely the entire journey and was rewarded with the show money.

Big Play on Metropolitan.
The biggest play of the day came in the third race, when Metropolitan, running in Billy Cain's colors, was backed from an opening of 5 to 2 down to 3 to 2. That the confidence of his backers was not misplaced was proven when the colt shot by Zick Abrams on the back stretch and assuming the lead thereafter never left the result in doubt. He withstood the challenge of Novgorod all through the stretch drive and won from the latter in a sharp drive. Sir Barry came from behind in the last sixteenth and managed to grab the show money.

Treasure Seeker Wins.
The long distance race was taken by Treasure Seeker, which was held in reserve for the first half, and after Cabin had run himself into the ground Anderson let the Ovement call, forged to the front on the last turn and forcing the race in the final sixteenth came on to win in a sharp drive. Cabin got the place, with the remainder of the field far in the rear.

The closing race was simply a canter for Nyanza, the odds-on favorite, which spreadeagled her field from start to finish, and won without the semblance of an effort.

Howard Pearson easily annexed the place money, while Dorothy Ann was a distant third. Howard Pearson pulled up lame after the race.

NOTES OF THE MEETING.

As the track appears to be a trifle too hard for the horses to race over, it is the intention of Supt. C. P. Dye to have it harrowed, in order to insure safety to the animals.

The members of the Ogden brass band, which furnishes the excellent daily program of music at the Fair Grounds, were all down on Aquiline in the first race, and when the mare came home a winner there arose a mighty shout from the musicians that could be heard over in the clubhouse.

Needless to state that the music furnished by the fortunate musicians for the remainder of the afternoon was of a decidedly high quality.

F. C. Blankenship, owner of Ketchel, which was a starter in the first race, was fined $10 for being dilatory in getting the horse into the paddock.

BABY SHOW AT THE FAIR

The Baby Show at the Four-State Fair held yesterday was a decided success. Babies entered in the pretty, heavy or small classes were on exhibition, and the entries totaled up to forty-nine.

Mothers paraded their infants in front of the grand stand at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and submitted their homes to the admiring eyes of the spectators and the judges.

There was much rivalry in the competition. Five prizes were awarded.

First prize, Julia Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Fred H. Snyder.
Second prize, Loyce, daughter of Mrs. B. Stevens.
Third prize, June, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Shurhoff.

AVIATOR'S HIGH FLIGHT.
BOUQU, France, Sept. 29.—Aviator Wyman, in a biplane, today rose to a height of 7,955 feet. Chavez's record was 8,409 feet.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG BALLOON

With the attendance of 700 high school and college students, the destruction by fire of the balloon used in the daily ascensions, and the Fair Baby Show, as extras, on the bill of entertainment yesterday at the Fair Grounds, was one of the most interesting and busy from the time he entered until he returned home.

Seven hundred rah-rah boys and girls, arrayed in their near-college clothes, and carrying handfuls of confetti and hundreds of those tantalizing little rubber balls, ready at any moment or second to make life miserable for the nearest person, are not to be denied.

The students had possession of the grounds, and they wasted not a moment of time in having the time of their lives. Every one of them went in for every little bit of fun that could be gotten out of the Fair, and it is needless to say that they got it. They played the wheels, did the merry-go-round, the Ferris wheel and all of the concessions, until they tired of their own efforts and made their way homeward.

The destruction of the balloon was the chief feature of the day. The immense silken bag caught fire during the process of inflation for the afternoon's ascension and quickly burned to ashes, causing a loss to the owner of $225, besides losing for him the $25 per day he was to receive for his work.

While the balloon was being filled with gas a spark from the flue of the underground fire entered the bag, and owing to the excitement and awkwardness of the attendant inside the bag, a blaze which quickly got beyond control was started.

In the inflation of a balloon it is necessary to have stationed inside the bag a man whose duty it is to prevent the silk lining from coming into contact with the flue, and to extinguish with water and blanket any sparks which might enter.

The man in charge of the inflation of the balloon yesterday, however, lay flat on his stomach on the turf during the inflation, and when a spark escaped from the flue into the bag it went unnoticed, until the crowd from the outside cried out "Fire, fire!"

The attendant then jumped up, but in his haste he upset the bucket of water which he had brought with him for just such a emergency. He became confused and neglected to cover up the flue with the blanket, and when he saw the blaze gaining headway he crawled under the folds of the balloon out into the open air. In a short time the big bag was a total loss, the silk and the rope attachments being burned to ashes in quick time.

The balloon was worth $275, and the cost of the building of the ditch and flue for inflation stood the owner $75. So, with the $25 received for the only ascension he had made during the engagement, his loss will total $325.

Mr. Tenney, the manager of the Western Carnival company, and owner of the balloon, has been unfortunate ever since he came to Ogden. He says that when he was making the railroad trip to the city for this engagement he occupied berth No. 13 in the Pullman car, and attributes his ill fortune to that fact.

When he and his men were transporting his properties to the Fair Grounds from the freight depot a street car collided with one of the drays, fatally injuring his best drawing card in the live animal exhibit, a trained wild boar.

Yesterday, from some unknown cause, his Chinese dragon, a creature seldom seen in captivity, and believed by many to exist only in mythology, passed away.

Mr. Tenney mournfully asks what next can he expect. He declares that if he gets away from this city with his head on his shoulders he will consider himself lucky again.

DISPLAY OF YOUNG ENGLISH SETTERS

In the Poultry and pet stock building, the fine display of young English setters has received more than their share of attention.

J. M. Webb of Franklin, Idaho has on exhibition a beautiful five field trial winner pedigree English setter. This dog was sired by Ryley by Rob See out of Mallard Sirdar who has the most winnings of any dog in the United States in that class. This dog is only nine months old and when in the proper hands can make good right now in any field trial. He also has on exhibition a beautiful specimen of a Gordon Setter that carried away the Blue Ribbon.

This dog is one of the most beautiful specimens of his breed in America and could win in any competition. He is one of the most perfect retrievers in the Inter-Mountain country and Mr. Webb is to be congratulated on being the owner of these two dogs.
